

THE AQUILA

Thought for the day: The rewards of tolerance are treachery and betrayal

Arenxis Minoris Campaign
Turn 1 Status Report

Chaos Controlled Hexes
40

Imperial Controlled Hexes
32

Edicts
Imperialis

Let it be known that a general amnesty has been declared by the Effadian Ordos Xenos for all mutants on Arenxis Prime. Please report to the nearest Citadel Inquisition for your free ration coupons and 50 crown voucher!

Due to a minor interruption of foodstuff imports, production of Soylen Green ration cubes has resumed. Good Imperial citizens, there is no reason to panic. In the coming days there will be sufficient food for all.

If you notice anyone near you coughing, wheezing, or otherwise showing symptoms of illness, please notify the nearest medicus for immediate treatment and quarantine. All Imperial citizens are ordered to be vigilant for plague—only through vigilance and faith shall we remain pure.

TERROR FROM THE SKIES! CHAOS TROOPS SEIZE ALL SPACEPORTS

In a shocking turn of events, a sequence of well planned attacks by Chaos renegade forces has resulted in the loss of all major spaceports on Arenxis Minoris. Imports of foodstuffs have been cut off almost overnight, already resulting in food riots and panic across Thessalonicus. A dark chapter for our blessed home has begun.

The first attack took place at Chogoris Field, the primary surface port in western Thessalonicus that handles munitions and promethium exports. Initial reports from Imperial strategos are sketchy, but we have been able to ascertain that the substantial auto-defense network surrounding the field was deactivated from within.

Shortly afterward a Chaos Astartes force of the Alpha Legion launched a full scale attack, and shortly afterwards they took full control of the field. What makes this battle truly shocking, however, is who the Alpha Legion defeated: +++INQUIS CENSOR ALEPH Z2Σ+++

Transit flights have ceased to and from Chogoris Field, pictured here. Many suspect that Chaos traitors of the Alpha Legion are in control.

Within an hour of this attack, Orks from "Da Madz Mob" launched their own assault against Port Octavian, the primary spaceport in the Wild Cantons of Haides. This port had been seized at the start of the war by invading xenos forces of the Sain-Hann craftworld of the Eldar. However, during the time they held it they permitted imports and exports to continue flowing through the Octavian. However, now that it's controlled by Orks it's of no use to anyone but them. A dark hour indeed for the people of Haides, for "Da Madz Mob" now controls BOTH spaceports on their fair continent.

The final gambit of Lord Minthras' forces was a bitterly fought struggle between Minthras himself and Sammael of the Dark Angels "Ravenwing". Master Sammael cornered the bulk of Minthras' "Unclean" warband near the outskirts of Port Hubris. Despite the valiant efforts of Sammael (pictured left), "The Unclean" captured Port Hubris with a tide of blood and plague. What happens next? Who will save our world? Time will tell this sad tale...

